Hey Travis,
Nothing certain at the moment except uncertainty. I will keep in mind that you are interested. Communication will roll out very quickly and be pretty low-key--we are releasing info to the residents and not making any announcements per se. First round only covers 11 of the 60-some sites sampled, All comms are vetted through HQ, and turnaround is less than prompt.

Mick

Heard you guys will roll out testing results from Dimmock this week. If there is anything you could share in advance it would be appreciated.
